Abstract The APEX IOL is a single-piece, foldable, hydrophilic acrylic intraocular lens (IOL) with rotational stabilization and a foldable torsion-resistant design. In a prospective clinical study, it was implanted in 66 eyes of 52 patients with cataract in order to reduce refractive surprise. The mean follow-up time was 4.9 months and no serious surgical complications were observed. At the 6-month follow-up, 82% of patients reported no refractive surprise, and a mean loss of 0.25 D in refractive power was achieved. The APEX IOL offers an improved refractive outcome after cataract surgery and may therefore represent a new option for patients with cataract. Arizona Memorial is about to be replaced, bringing back the official WWII colors for the third time in the memorial's 41 years. The Navy, in a Navy news release, stated the original colors were introduced in 1984, returning to the default white in 2012. Those original colors stood for the Marine Corps, and were predominantly black and gray. After the 2020 change, those will be the colors of the Marine Corps, though the Navy can continue to use black for its own logo. The new colors come as a part of an effort to present the memorial in an updated way as some new design elements are introduced. In 2015, the Navy changed the interior design of the memorial, installing a new granite floor and sound system. Other upcoming changes include the addition of a life-size copy of the Statue of Liberty's crown that will replace the bell on the memorial. During the World

She remains docked at Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard and was designated a national monument in 1954. The USS Arizona Memorial is located in Pearl Harbor on the east side of Ford Island. copier, printer, facsimile apparatus or other image forming apparatus. The sheet feeding apparatus is capable of separating and feeding a plurality of sheets one by one from a sheet stack that includes a plurality of stacked sheets. Conventionally, sheet feeding apparatus capable of feeding a plurality of sheets have been known. Such sheet feeding apparatus includes a feeder for separating and feeding the sheets one by one from a sheet stack that includes a plurality of stacked sheets, and a sheet conveying path that conveys the sheets separated and fed by the feeder toward an image forming unit. For example, a sheet feeding apparatus is known in which a planar upper surface of an inclined separation pad is placed in contact with a lower surface of a sheet stack, a feed roller is provided upstream of the sheet stack with respect to a sheet feed direction in a state of rotation being stopped and the feed roller is pressed against the lower surface of the sheet stack so as to form a nip between the separation pad and the feed roller, thereby separating and feeding the sheets one by one by friction.
